DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 20 July 2006 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. There is no support for the new recitation "at least two tubes ... closed to the product space", recited in claim 1. In fact, the specification as originally filed teaches away from the tubes being closed to the product space, stating on page 12, lines 15-19, "at least two radial openings from a connection from the passage in the finned tube to the product space of the mixer/heat exchanger, through which medium flows, in order to carry an additional liquid or gaseous component into the main flow of the material being mixed and to directly mix this component with the material". Nothing in the original filing show that applicant had possession of the concept of the tubes being closed to the product space. The tubes being closed to the product space is the opposite of the invention.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant states "As soon as any person skilled in the art hears the expression 'heat exchanger' he or she will immediately think of the foregoing concept and would never think that the tubes could be anything but closed to the product space". However, the instant application clearly and expressly describes in the drawings and text that in the static mixer/heat exchanger of the invention "at least two radial openings form a connection from the passage in the finned tube to the product space of the mixer/heat exchanger, through which medium flows, in order to carry an additional liquid or gaseous component into the main flow of the material being mixed and to directly mix this component with the material" (page 12, lines 15-19). Upon reading a patent application, it would be improper to assume that the specification and drawings are wrong and that the application only means to describe what is conventional, because often inventors file patent application for things that are new.

5. Applicant argues that sectional view 2a does not show the opening described elsewhere in the application and in other figures. However, the sectional view 2a does not show the entire surface of the tubes, so one cannot conclude from the section view that the tubes have no openings to the product space. Does a photograph of the Sahara Desert prove that the Earth has no oceans?

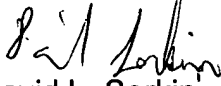

6. The new negative limitation improperly introduces a new concept to the claims. See Ex parte Grasselli, 231 USPQ 393 (BPAI 1983).
